

JURY- 1 of 7 billion short film competition

Raúl Celda, co-founder and President of Foundation 10.12.48.

Raúl Celda is a human rights lawyer. He has been working in different development and nonprofit areas for more than ten years, overseeing and distributing grants in Africa, Asia and Latin America through the Foundation for Justice based in Valencia, Spain.

He has designed and implemented a wide range of educational and cultural programs intended to raise awareness on social issues, as well as, foster cooperation and development between Spain and developing countries in Latin America, Asia and Africa such as Ethiopia, Equatorial Guinea, Kenya, Senegal, Mozambique, Benin, Bangladesh, India, Paraguay, El Salvador, Brazil, Cambodia and Vietnam.

He is currently working as a Chief Creative Officer of the Human Rights Film Festival, World Music Festival and Social Theater Festival, all of them taking place in Valencia, Spain.

Daria Sommers, filmmaker.

Daria Sommers is a NYC-based filmmaker whose work includes both documentaries and narrative fiction. She is the co-director and co-producer, with Meg McLagan, of Lioness, which won the Center for Documentary Studies Filmmaker Award at the Full Frame Film Festival in 2008 and was broadcast nationally on the PBS series Independent Lens. Her previous films include Eastern Spirit Western World, a portrait of Chinese artist Diana Kan, which was broadcast by PBS, BBC and CBC and premiered at the Smithsonian, and the half-hour drama Ready To Burn for which she received Panavision's New Director's Award.

Daria began her career at PBS and her work has garnered support from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the National Endowment for the Arts, the Sundance Documentary Fund, the Fledgling Fund, Chicken & Egg Pictures and NYSCA. She has served on the Metropolitan Museum 's Program for Art on Film review panel and been an artist-in-residence at the Macdowell Colony and the Content+Intent Documentary Institute at Mass MoCA. She recently completed Sawadika American Girl, a screenplay about Americans living in Thailand. Daria is a graduate of Oberlin College and is co-founder of Room 11 Productions.

Christian Delsol, producer and media specialist at UNFPA

Since joining UNFPA in 1992, Christian Delsol has worked with independent reporters, documentary film makers, photographers and designers to help advocate for population issues and gender equity. The productions have been aired on BBC World, CNN International, Euronews, PBS and syndicated on AP and Reuters. He has also worked with photojournalists commissioning photo reportages in emergency situations and addressing gender based violence.

Christian has a background in cultural anthropology and has experience producing video shorts in Laos, Afghanistan, Ethiopia and many more locations.